The best festoon lights (Credit: Lights4Fun) (Opens in new tab) These party lights are super easy to use and will give any patio space a charming warm shine after the dark. One of the best things about them is that if you want to illuminate a larger area, you can simply connect multiple sets together so that you just need to use a power source. I have two sets of the hot white lights 10m in my own garden, and they easily extend around the edge of my patio. The rubber cable is really durable, and the lights are also resistant - I even accidentally dropped one of the sets on the paving plates and the lamps did not break. I used them for some summers now (and even in winter) and they are still going strong.' Beth Murton, Gardening Editor Our top choice of the best party lights come from Lights4fun and are the absolute class when it comes to connecting various streams of lights together.
